short time. His name is Al Kaufmann, and, like Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries, he is a Californian.

Kaufmann's victory over Harry Foley Thursday night showed that is a dangerous man. He knocked Foley out in one minute and

This Foley is hardly a top-notcher among the heavies, but he is a ry clever boxer. Like Jimmy Britt, he was amateur champion of the coast before he turned professional. He came East and fought Williams in Philadelphia, getting the worst of the bout. But he ut up a good fight. After that affair he joined Kid McCoy and acted as sparring partner for several weeks. I have seen him fight the Kid d for five or six rounds, and hold his own, which is a good enough antee that he is better than a second-rater. McCoy thought that follow was good amough to fight any of the light heavy-weights.

It is more like a Jim Corbett, with a circumstances if this new fighter should make such a clean-up of the heavy-weights that a public demand would be made for Jeffries to come out of his retirement and fight again. Jeff would do it, if he thought there was a man on earth good enough to give him a battle. Then Delaney would be in the peculiar position of a man handling two aspirants for the champion-ship. He would have to be "off with the old live and on with the new," or he would have to drop the new man and take up his old champion again.

Louisvillian is a good ring general, smows how to force the fighting t up to the last second of the round, as he did against big Jack mean. But Billy Delaney, who is fair Kaufmann's interests, is for Delaney's champ. Ruhlin "Is willim," Misto Jack Johnsing will want to take "the title" away from his righter against two or three other ty good men like Foley before he was him to take on Hart. There is ne talk of Delaney's matching usemann against Ruhlin; but the push him to take on hart. There is no talk of Delaney's matching usemann against Ruhlin; but the push him to take on his last fight the coast, against a fifth-rater in the push himself fairly started on Jeff's trail.
